Section Protested: Does not pass compliance checks on overwidth per Chief of Impound.

Protest Description:

Does not pass compliance checks on overwidth per Chief of Impound.

Protest Committee Decision:

The protest committee reviewed the track width compliance measuring tool, observed the impound representative applying it to the car. The protest committee observed that the tool has a small amount of leniency built in (approximately 1/32). The compliance tool would not fit on the rear track of the car without pressing significantly into the tire sidewalls or flexing the measuring tool. The committee finds the car non-compliant. The penalty imposed is two seconds on each run.

Protest Description:

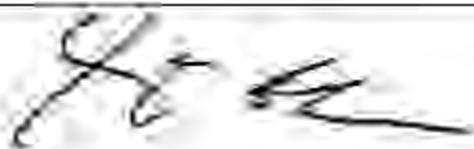

I believe there has been a modification to the steering column inside to add a steering quickener.

Protest Committee Decision:

The car owner installed a steering quickener, which violates rule 16.1.f.1.
The protest committee had decided DSQ all runs taken with the steering quicker installed. If the car is legal for 2nd day runs, those times should be valid.

Section Protested: 16

Protest Description:

Class integrity is using sport sedan from the street and not over abusing what can be found in the general public. What is the limit of preparing a sport sedan the is street able with interior parts and other items missing ie nascar style roll cages that do not allow for window to be functional, dog boxes that general public can not use in real world, if possible define street able as to allow for better understanding of each state allowance for inspection for all 50 states. The class was originally meant to crest and foster retention in the class. That is not happening due to the excess modifications done the build a car in this call anymore

Protest Committee Decision:

The protest committee does not find any rule that the protested car has violated, and no specific rules were addressed by the protestor. It is not the purview of the protest committee to determine the spirit or direction of any class, as that is a task for the advisory committees. As there is no violation, there will be no penalty.

Protest Description:

Car was running on test course before run heat. Competitor admitted to only having two sets of wheels/tires and both sets were used during run competition by 2nd run.

Protest Committee Decision:

The supps clearly prohibit running competition tires on the test course on the day of competition. The car had two sets of tires used during competition. The PC was able to tell by photos from timing which wheels/tires were used each run. All runs taken on the practice course tires are DSQ.
The second run was on tnt course tires so that run is DSQ.

Section Protested: Section I. 2. B.

Protest Description:

The spoiler has endplates which are prohibited by the rule.

Protest Committee Decision:

The protest committee reviewed the spoiler and interviewed the parties.

The Street Prepared and Street Modified rules did not contain a definition of endplates as it related to a spoiler. The committee located a definition of "spoiler endplates" in the Prepared rules, Rule 17.P.2:

"Spoiler endplates are defined as any vertical (or semi-vertical) surfaces attached in front of the spoiler which have the result of capturing and redistributing air (downforce) along all or any portion of the spoiler."

The committee finds that the spoiler here includes endplates as defined in the rulebook which are prohibited in the class. The committee recommends future clarification of the spoiler rules in the Street Prepared and Street Mod section, and that a definition of endplate be added to the glossary/definitions.

Penalty imposed: two seconds per run on Day 2.

(Additional notes for appeals committee: The originally filed protest on this car was for wing dimensions exceeding 10 inches. In grid, the protestor noted that the wing had been cut down after Day 1, so modified the protest as currently written regarding the endplates.)

Protest Description:

Non carb legal air intake

Protest Committee Decision:

The Intake Tube was removed and inspected and found to have Modular Venturi Tube (MVT) present. The installed intake is AIRRAID model 450-172, and on this model, the MVT is critical part for CARB compliance. This particular model is out of production, and the current production does not have the MVT, which causes some confusion as it is not a visible part without disassembly. Therefore the intake is determined to be rules compliant. For reference, the installation instructions for this intake, with notes about CARB compliance, can be found at the following link:

Protest Description:

Rule specific for females. Kate is biological male pretending to be female. Transgender is a self identified choice to behave in genders opposite the sex they were at birth. Issue is Kate still has all the inherent advantages associated with being a male & that's not fair competition.

Protest Committee Decision:

4.7.A states: Parallel ladies classes will be provided for females who wish to enter them. The competitor is female. The SCCA stands firmly behind the competitor and their right to compete.
The protest committee finds the protest to not be in good faith and to not be well founded. As such, it is the committee's opinion that this protest violates the welcoming environment that the SCCA stands behind.

RE: DSL #89

Findings of the Protest Committee (PC)

On 9/2/25, Kasey Gintner, DSL #99 and Emily Whitaker, DSL #43 protested Kendra Mabie, DSL #89 for having slotted brake rotors. The Protest Committee found the car illegal and assessed a 2 second penalty for each of the days runs.

Appeal of Decision

On 9/9/2025 Kendra Mabie submitted an appeal of the decision by the Protest committee via Email.

The National Appeals Committee (NAC), consisting of David Marcus, Daniel McCelvey, Doug Wille, Mike King and Jeff Cashmore met, via virtual meeting, on 9/24/25, to review the evidence and discuss the appeal. Also included in the meeting was Andrew Benagh.

Documents and Other Evidence Received and Reviewed

As part of this appeal Kendra Mabie submitted an appeal letter.

Findings

The NAC agrees with the PC that the slotted rotors do not meet the "Alternate components" wording from section 13 of the Solo rules book.

Decision

The NAC upholds the decision of the PC. The appeal is well founded and the appeal fee, less the amount retained by the SCCA, will be returned.
