Rules Clarifications

- The TTB received a request regarding the use of an OEM electrically actuated manual transmission in Max.

The TTB reaffirms that Max allows any transmission that meets the requirements of the category to be utilized and considers shift linkages to be unrestricted.

- The TTB received a request regarding the use of a flex fuel sensor in Sport class.

The TTB agreed that adding a Flex fuel sensor is not legal in Sport if it has any effect on the fuel or timing maps. If Flex fuel has been added to a vehicle, you would need to be able to remove the sensor from the fuel line prior, or make sure the sensor and gauge are truncated from the ECU or any additional control modules that control fuel and timing.

Rules Changes
